Monte Carlo schedule risk analysis is fast becoming an integral part of the project management processes. If you are or will be managing projects with this requirement, this webinar will provide you basic understanding of how Monte Carlo simulations work, provide a quick overview of the inputs, analysis and reports, and show how you can simplify the process.

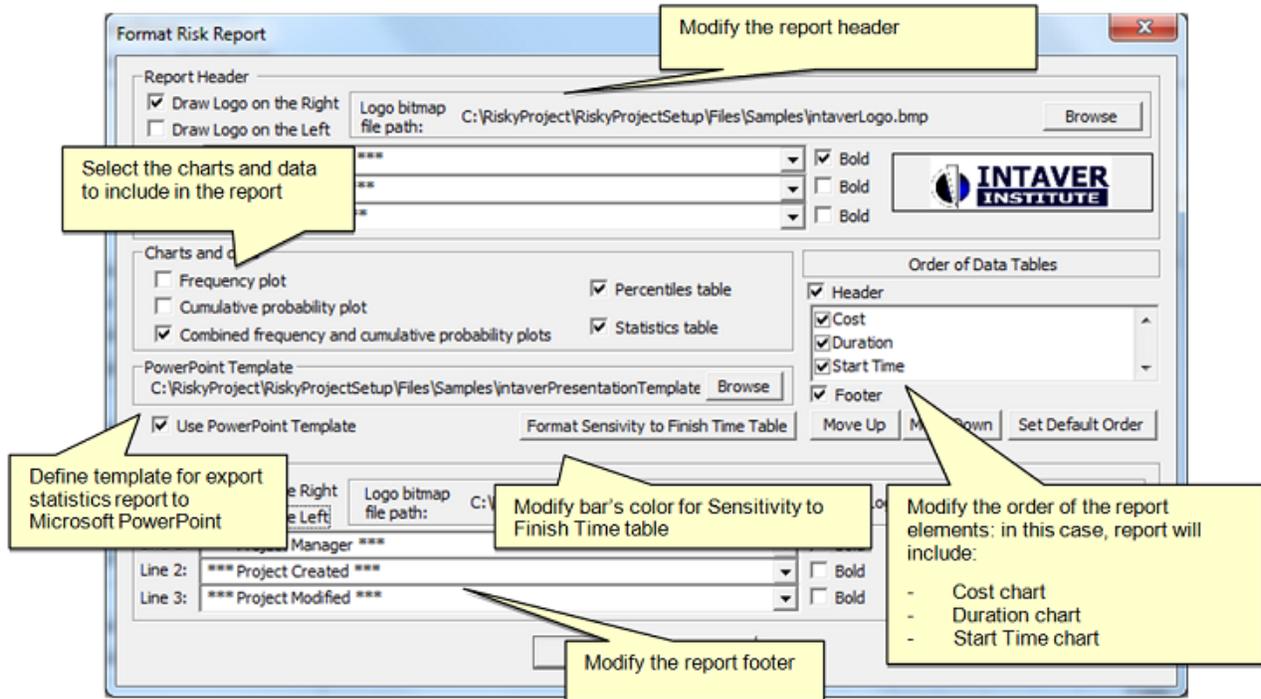

Tip of the Day - Customizing the Statistic Report

RiskyProject's Statistics Report allows you to quickly and easily generate a customizable report for any number of activities or milestones in your project.

You can modify the statistics report by adding or removing histograms, statistics, or the sensitivity chart as well as the general project information that is included.

To customize the statistics report:

1. Click the Reports tab. In the Report Views group, click Statistics Report.
2. Click the Customize Report button. The Format Risk Report dialog box opens.
3. In the Charts and Data group, add or remove the charts and tables that you want to include in the report.
4. Modify the order in which the report elements are presented in the Order of Data tables
5. Add or modify Header and Footer information.

Partners in Focus

Founded in 1989, the Center for Systems Management (CSM), now a division of Management Concepts, leverages the companies' combined professional services expertise in program management, systems engineering, acquisition, leadership, and financial management. CSM's cross-functional and collaborative team of thought-leaders can identify your key challenges and provide innovative solutions. Our team can then lead the solution implementation or mentor your team through the implementation process. Our team focuses on linking people, processes and tools to deliver innovative, effective, and efficient performance improvement that solves your organization and/or program challenges by addressing the root causes of issues with a systems informed solution.
